SONGS OF SALVATION

DRIFTING DOWN

Tune: Looking this way.

Slumber, now drifting with this world's tide,
Far from the Saviour, Who is your Guide;
Billows of sin are carrying you on,
And mercy's warning will soon be gone.

Chorus:

Jesus is looking, looking for thee,
While He is hanging on Calvary's tree;
Should not His great love win thy poor soul?
Giving thee pardon, making thee whole.

Slumber, now drifting to endless woe,
Nothing to hold on, fearing you go;
Choosing your own path, where there's no light,
Into the darkness of eternal night.

Slumber, now drifting from loved ones dear,
Whom you have lived with, so long
down here;
Soon you'll be parted for evermore;
Slut out of Heaven's once open door.

—Composed by P.S. Rutcliffe
(Edmonton 111. Corps).

A FRIEND DIVINE

Tune—"The Lily of the Valley, 239;

Song Book, 257.

I've found a Friend in Jesus;
He's everything to me,
He's the Father of Ten Thousand to
my soul;
The Lily of the Valley,
In Him alone I see
All I need to cleanse and make me
fully whole;
In sorrow He's my Comfort,
In trouble He's my Stay,
He tells me every care on Him to roll.

Chorus:

He's the Lily of the Valley,
The Bright and Morning Star,
He's the Father of Ten Thousand to
my soul.

He all my griefs has taken,
And all my sorrows borne;
In temptation He's my Strong and Mighty Power;
I've all for Him forsaken,
I've all my idols torn
From my heart, and now He keeps me by His power;
Though all the world forsake me,
And Satan tempt me sore,
Through Jesus I shall safely reach the goal.

And Trusted to Honesty of Customers—Didn't Lose a Cent

Mrs. Lieutenant-Colonel Beaumont tells an interesting story concerning a woman Officer in Japan. Some years ago she was left with the care of her only child who when old enough, commenced to attend the Juniors. He invited his mother to the Army, and eventually she went and knelt at the Altar. She had a little shop and the difficulty of attending the meetings regularly, and keeping the shop open was solved in a certain way. She took some cards she wrote in bold letters the price of each article, and on another card she wrote, "If there is anything you need take it and put the money into the box; have come to the Army meeting." Strange to say she did lose a cent! This comrade at length went into training, and when the slump work was started in Japan was placed in charge. She is still doing splendid work among the poor.

THE CAPTAIN'S SONG

"Thank you for that song last night, Captain," said a young man, who stopped me in the street.
"What song?" I asked, in surprise.
"The one you sang in your house about ten o'clock. I think it was you."
I asked why he should thank me for it.
"I had had a quarrel with my wife," he said, "and in anger left home, rowing never to return. But when I was opposite your house I heard some one singing, 'Abide with me.' It smote me to the heart, and I was compelled to listen until the conclusion of the song. Then, ashamed of my unmanly action, I went home and sought my wife's forgiveness."—E. V.

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE

Major Sims Leads Sunday Meeting
—Young People's Rally Day
—Visit to Jail

Sunday, September 14th, was Young People's Rally Day at Portage La Prairie. Major Sims, the Young People's Secretary for Canada, was with us, accompanied by Adjutant Merritt, Young People's Secretary for Manitoba.

We began the day with a service. Major Sims is well known here, having been a spiritual adviser to one of the men who had to suffer the death penalty for his crimes, some time ago. Both the Major and the Adjutant gave the men a heart to heart talk and when the appeal was made practically every man held up his hand for prayer.

The Young People took a prominent part in the afternoon meeting. When being questioned at the close of this service it was seen quite clearly, by the answers given, that our Young People are not ignorant, by any means, of the way of Salvation.

The meeting at night brought to close a series of services that were helpful and profitable, and will be remembered for a long time. The Major gave a talk on the "Parable of the Sower." In the prayer meeting, led by Adjutant Merritt, after came forward for restoration.

SWIFT CURRENT

Waiting Officers Conduct Bright and Helpful Meetings

On Wednesday, September 17th, Adjutant Richardson paid us a visit at Swift Current. We also had a surprise visit from the Officers of the 1st Cavalry, Captain Falkner and Lieutenant Smith. Ensign Stride, our late Officer, who all the comrades were very glad to see, was also present.

An open-air was held on the south side at seven o'clock, and another open-air in the city. The crowds at the last meeting were large and attentive and the testimonies were bright.

The inside meeting was well attended and was in charge of Adjutant Richardson who was well supported by Adjutant Hardy and Lieutenant Barker of the Corps Officers. The singing was bright and we had an old-time popular testimony meeting. All the comrades and friends were anxious to tell of what God had done for them and there was not a dull minute in the meeting.

Officers and comrades are praying earnestly and believing that God is going to save my souls. We have had some real blessed times lately and God has blessed us—just a Soldier.

WAR VETERANS

Enjoy Supper and Social at the Woodstock, Ont., Citadel

The Woodstock, Ont., Corps recently gave a supper and social evening to a number of war veterans, their wives and children. An excellent programme was given, Rev. Captain Applegate presiding. Club singing by the Life-Saving Guards was an item much enjoyed. The band rendered several selections.

The programme consisted of vocal and instrumental quartettes, duets, piano and organ solos. Judging from the applause of the audience the items were much appreciated. In place of the usual Bible reading, Staff-Captain Easton called upon the congregation to rise and repeat the 23rd Psalm.

On behalf of the local comrades, Captain Payton, the Commanding Officer, thanked the members of the party.—Velo.

Two Envoys Conduct Sunday Meetings—Four Seekers

On Sunday, September 7th, Envoys Burdett and Alward were with us and we had a great day. Four souls sought Salvation. The following day the day were over 57th. The night open-air meeting was attended by sixty-two comrades which is the best attendance yet for years.—W. Beattie, Adjutant.

to Captain and Mrs. Bowyer. The Captain was greatly interested in the Life-Saving Scouts and Guards. He has now gone to Somerset.

We have welcomed Captain Annie McEldown and Lieutenant "Mabel" Sinclair, and we believe they are going to be a blessing to us.

Our band is doing well and our Young People's work is going along nicely. On Sunday, August 24th, we had three veterans with us, namely: Brother Mark Williams, Richard Darrell, and William Richardson, and their presence was greatly appreciated. One backslider returned to the fold.

We have some good open-air, especially on Sunday afternoons.

HUNTSVILLE HALL

Has Been Renovated—Two Colonels Visit the Corps—Good Meetings and a Number of Souls

We are having some very interesting times in Huntsville. Our Hall has lately been renovated which adds greatly to its appearance. It was rededicated in God's service by Captain Sarlmann, who with his wife, are proving a great blessing in our midst. We had a visit from Lieutenant-Colonel Hargrave, Major McEldown and Captain Bond.

Captain Sarlmann dedicated to God and the Army the little son of Brother and Sister Houser. God has rewarded our efforts very much lately in a number of good cases of conversion and our faith is remaining high for a good winter's work.

Almost seventy-five were recently paid in a visit which proved to be a great blessing to all. Everything looks good for a well-arranged Harvest Festival targeted.

ST. JOHN ITEMS

Varied Activities of Salvation Army in the City—All Departments Making Good Progress

The week-end meetings at St. John I. were led by Lieutenant-Colonel Miller. Splendid crowds attended. The meeting at the jail on Sunday afternoon was conducted by Sister L. Gould and Harding, this being their first visit. They were accompanied by Commandant Shand. The Military Hostel is making a great deal. Ensign and Mrs. Candie are in charge and they are doing all in their power for the welfare of the soldiers. The Ensign is, for the time being, in charge of the No. 1 Band and under his tuition the band is progressing.

A splendid addition to the Evangelical Home is being erected. Adjutant L. Clark and his helpers are doing a good work and winning popular approval.

The Social Department is also busy. The Peoples' Palace is being renovated. At three hundred men have spent time during the past month. The Social Store is also doing well and the shelter has been a boon to many poor men.

Adjutant and Mrs. Clark are now back in the city from their keep-keep and over over the Life-Saving Scouts and Guards are cherishing memories of happy days at the Camp.

NORTH BAY

Visits From New Divisional Officer and Training College Principal

On Saturday and Sunday, September 6th and 7th, Lieutenant-Colonel Hargrave held his first meetings in North Bay as our Divisional Officer. The Colonel was accompanied by Major McEldown. The meetings were very inspiring and large crowds gathered. They also gave another visit on their return from the north on Thursday, 11th, when we again had good open-air and inside meetings, which were a blessing to our souls.

We also had a visit from Lieutenant-Colonel and Mrs. Bell on the 20th and 21st. The Colonel spoke in the Methodist Church in the morning, where he addressed a very large gathering.

The meeting in the County Jail in the afternoon was a record one and the jailer informed us that it made a great impression on the prisoners. The night meeting was also a means of blessing to all who attended.—L. H. S.

BRACEBRIDGE, ONT.

Lieutenant-Colonel Bell Gives Inspiring Address

On Tuesday, September 16th, Lieutenant-Colonel and Mrs. Bell were with us. The Colonel's address was very helpful and inspiring. About seventy-five attended the meeting and we finished up, with one soul at the Mercy Seat.

We are sorry to have to say good-bye to Ensign Moffatt and Lieutenant Challinor. They have done a great work here. We have with us now Captain John Bond, and we are looking forward to making good progress.—J. H.

THE PRINCE OF WALES

Is Made a Chief of the Stony Indians—Inspects Imperial Soldiers at Little Wayside Station

Welcomed at Vancouver

When the Prince of Wales visited Hanf he was greeted by a picturesque escort of Stony Indians, who conducted him to the park where the Park Commissioner presented the formal address of welcome. Then the Stony entertained their young chieftain with a typical Indian lute.

The Prince of Wales was made a chief of the Stony Indians with pomp and circumstance. The Prince has added a wonderful head-dress to his regalia, and the regalia has been added to his name. En route from Field to Revelstoke the Prince inspected five hundred Imperial soldiers, members of the Middlesex Regiment, under Colonel F. T. Brown, who were on their way from Siberia. The men had alighted from their train at the little mountain station of the Twin Butte and they cheered the Prince with great vigour, after he had passed down the line.

At Revelstoke Mayor Mackinnon presented the Prince with an address on behalf of the citizens, and the Prince unveiled a memorial tablet at the Court House for those from this city who fell in the war.

The citizens of Vancouver turned out in tens of thousands to welcome the Prince, who arrived in the city on Monday, September 22nd. When he stepped from his train the Prince was met and welcomed by Mayor Gale and a few others. A few minutes later the Royal party left the station and proceeded through the streets and between solid walls of cheering multitudes to Stanley Park, where the civic welcome was formally extended in the form of an address read by the Mayor.

After receiving the address His Royal Highness inspected the veterans and presented decorations. At noon he received Admiral Rodman, of the United States Pacific Fleet, who had landed early in the day from the battleship New Mexico.

A YOUNG PRISONER

Week-Old Baby Handed Over to Care of Salvation Army

With only the stars to witness, with only the dull rumble of the "Black Maria" to herald its arrival, there has come to the cells of the central police station the youngest prisoner that has ever yet gazed on the sunnier walls of the prison. The prisoner—a baby girl—is just eight days old.

Closely huddled to its mother, its great brown eyes looking out in wonder on the kindly police matron and officers, she tiny came into the arms of the day care night-nurse from a house on Cadieux street where it was born.

The mother and child were taken to a room conducted by Captain Sarge and his men. The Salvation Army officials took an interest in the case and the child and its mother are at the Army's maternity home on Drummond street—Montreal Star.

People who have no courage for the hour of danger, no backbone, no capacity for standing alone, who dare not suffer, are of little or no use in the world.

If will require the light which streams from the eternal Throne to reveal to us the blessed effects of having the sentence of death written on all our earthly enjoyments.

Progress in Property Affairs

Work Has Begun on Halifax Maternity Hospital—New Citadels for Sydney, Dartmouth, Walkerville, and Yorkville—Extensive Renovations to Men's and Women's Social Institutions

SOME encouraging property advances were outlined by Lieutenant-Colonel Miller, the Property Secretary, to a "War Cry" representative who interviewed him on his return to headquarters from a visit of inspection to the Maritime Provinces.

The new Maternity Hospital at Halifax came first on the list. Work has commenced.

Work on this has already commenced, the street lines of the block—Morris, Summer, College and Carlton streets—having been laid down and the lines of the building laid off.

The outer walls will be of concrete and red pressed brick, with out stone trimmings, and a hipped roof.

There will be two public wards of twelve beds each, also a number of private wards. The other part of the building will be divided up into private wards for midwives.

There is also a suite of operating rooms on each floor, Doctor's room, sterilizing room, modern plumbing, every convenience and also rooms for infants who will have special care. One of the special features will be the arrangement of the sun parlors; also large sitting room on each floor.

The building will be steam heated by two Royal boilers, and there will be a garbage incinerator, domestic heaters and so forth.

On the basement floor will be large kitchens, sculleries, serving rooms, cold-storage, dining-rooms, supply rooms, laundry, amatory, ironing-rooms, work room and a suite for the janitor. There will also be an outside boiler room, and large coal room, and in addition to this there will be a coal room for kitchen, and an outside vegetable room.

Corner Stone Laying

It is hoped to have everything in readiness for a corner stone laying ceremony by October 25th, in connection with the visit of the Commissioner to the city to conduct the Congress. Two stones will be laid, one representing the people who gave so generously, and the other representing the Salvation Army, the receiver.

Building operations have also been commenced at Dartmouth. It will be remembered that the Hall at Outremont. It is expected to be started to the city next week to meet the Mayor and a Committee on this question.

The Commissioner, with Lieutenant-Colonel and Mrs. Adby, Lieutenant-Colonel Chandler and Major Crich-ton, and the Officers Assembled at Grand Falls, Nfld., for the Recent Congress

The Colonel conducted several meetings during his trip, including one at the Halifax city jail, a Sunday morning meeting at No. 17, Corps, and a week-night meeting at No. 1, in St. John he led Sunday meetings.

Other items of interest concerning property advances were also mentioned by the Colonel as follows:

A large building at Windsor, Ont., is now undergoing renovations and will shortly be opened as a Hospital. A new Citadel is also being erected at Walkerville, at a cost of ten thousand dollars.

The Yorkville Corps in Toronto is also to have a new home. A Citadel will be built on Yonge Street, near Union, and the old Hall on Davenport Road will be used as a Junior Hall. The Men's Industrial Home at Montreal is also undergoing extensive renovations.

HAILEYBURY (ONT.)

Visit of Lieutenant-Colonel and Mrs. Bell—Young French Canadian Seeks to Know Truth

On Thursday, September 11th, Lieutenant-Colonel and Mrs. Bell visited Hailybury. Considering the fact that there are no Officers at this place there was a good turnout and all thoroughly enjoyed the meeting. The singing of Ensign Moffatt and Lieutenant Challinor of Cobalt, was also much appreciated.

During the open-air service the collector gave a personal invitation to a young man on the balcony of a hotel to attend the meeting. This he did. In the course of the prayer meeting, Mrs. Colonel Bell dealt with him, and he expressed the desire to be saved, but said he did not know more about it. After the meeting he returned and had a talk with the Colonel. He was a French Canadian seeking light. He stated that he had listened to Army open-air services but never attended an inside service before, and that he was anxious to get to understand the truth.

Finally he was given a Bible, some good advice, and an invitation to attend the meeting in Cobalt the next night, which he did. He caught several meetings at Cobalt and Hailybury until he felt the neighbourly kind.

Intolerance is a bad habit which has caused many precious prayers to be wasted. In fact, that should have been devoted to prayer and Bible-reading.

Local Officers. Bandsmen and Songsters.

BAND NOTES

A reunion of war veterans was recently held at Vancouver B.C. Our ten Bandsmen have all returned home. Deputy Bandmaster A. Lismore who returned with a bride a few days before the reunion is the last one of the Bandsmen to come home.

A fine supper was provided by the Corps Home League who have always assisted at welcome suppers for all veterans.

The Band, now the war is over, is regaining something of its old strength and is in for great times for the extension of God's Kingdom under the leadership of Bandmaster Crawshaw.

Brigadier McLean welcomed home the veterans. Mrs. Commandant Hobbie spoke on behalf of our comrades' widows. A Bandsman.

The Toronto Temple Band was requested by the military authorities to play a hospital troop train at the North Toronto station on Sunday evening, September 28th. Three motor trucks were sent to convey the Band to the station. On arrival the Band gave a musical and vocal programme whilst waiting for the train and the relatives and friends of the men gathered there evidently enjoyed the same immensely. Mayor Church was present to welcome the incoming men and he expressed his appreciation of the Band's services in the very warmest terms.

BANDSMAN AND SONGSTER Are United in Marriage at Kingston by Adjutant Smith

On Tuesday, September 23rd, a wedding took place at the Kingston Citadel when Bandsman Victor Fraser was united in marriage to Songster Jennie Newman. The Citadel was crowded to the doors, and after the wedding some thirty guests sat down to supper. Mrs. Smith gave a Bible reading, and the Songsters gave several excellent selections. Bandmaster W. Christmas spoke on behalf of the groom, while Mrs. Smith referred to the excellent manner in which Sister Newman had served in the Songsters.

NORTH TORONTO SONGSTERS

Have Charge of the Week-End Meetings—All Members Took Part

The Songsters had charge of the week-end meetings, August 30 and 31 at North Toronto. Starting with Saturday night open-air they had a very good turnout.

The Sunday morning meeting was led by Songster Leader Jones and Songster R. Wass. In the afternoon a short musical was held. The night meeting was led by Songster Leader Jones and Songster Wass.

There are some twenty-eight Songsters and every one had an opportunity to take part during the week-end.

On Labour Day the Songster picnic was held at Centre Island. They had a good attendance of Songsters and friends.

The Songsters are doing well under the leadership of Songster Leader Jones.

Went in Autos

The trip was made in automobiles belonging to different Bandsmen and also in some kindly loaned and driven by friends of the Army in Edmonton. The cars owned and driven by Bandsmen were those of Treasurer Holmes, Band Secretary Hay, and Bandsman Clarke. The Alberta Government kindly loaned a car and driver. Messrs. Andrews Brothers (undertakers) also loaned a car, which was driven by a member of the firm; and Bandsmaster Cottle and Bandmaster Murray each drove a car kindly loaned to the Army for the occasion. The Bandsman, who drives a delivery car for one of the large departmental stores in the city, personally worked up till 12.30 on Friday night and commenced again at 6.30 Saturday morning, endeavouring to put out one of the cars in working condition for the trip that day.

The cars left the Citadel promptly at 1.30 on Saturday and drove without any serious mishaps to Leduc, twenty-five miles south of Edmonton, where an open-air was held, and then on to Millet, another small community, ten miles further south, where some more music was provided for the assembled citizens. The Band then proceeded on to Wetaskiwin and through to Camrose.

Took Wrong Turn

So far the journey had been without any trouble to speak of, but when the Bandsmen and Camrose things were a little more interesting, as, owing to unfamiliarity with the road, some of the cars took the wrong turning and were consequently considerably delayed in their arrival in Camrose. One driver, who delivers water in Edmonton, had some Wetaskiwin and Camrose things were a little more interesting, as, owing to unfamiliarity with the road, some of the cars took the wrong turning and were consequently considerably delayed in their arrival in Camrose.

In the afternoon the Band marched to the hospital, and played for some time to the inmates; afterwards being conveyed to the Danit Theatre for the Fringe service.

It might be of interest to mention that on Saturday night, while marching from the open-air stand to the Presbyterian Church, some of the Bandsmen had considerable difficulty in reading their music, owing to the darkness of the streets; and one gentleman, noticing this very considerately followed the Band in his auto, allowing the rays from his lamps to fall on the music, thus providing the necessary light.

A splendid service of praise and thanksgiving was conducted by Brigadier Hay in the theatre, the use of which was freely granted to the Army. The night meeting ended up with six souls at the Mercy Seat. A special music was provided by the Band, and also by the Alberta Quartette, the three Captains Stuart and Candidate Hay; the lesson being taken by the Brigadier.

In this meeting Candidate Dedin from the Winnipeg Training College. This candidate has worked faithfully in the Corps since her conversion, and as she also worked in the first office was known to a very large number of the people present in the building who listened very attentively to her testimony, and exhortation to obey the voice of God.

Candidate Violet Hay (Brigadier and Mrs. Hay's daughter) also very well known in Camrose, and goodbye in the music meeting for the same destination: Mrs. Hay and Bandsman Townies also spoke.

Start For Home

Next day a start was made for Wetaskiwin and home. One car, however, absolutely refused to crank until it had been towed up the main street of the town for about an hour at racing speed. Two others also jibbed badly for a while, but eventually decided to do their duty; another pair had to be attended to for temporary repairs. However, everyone got safely away by about 9.30 a.m.

The car driven by the Bandsman, however, came to grief and the Band Secretary, who was in the car following, undertook to send an expert from Wetaskiwin.

The occupants of the stranded car, mostly Officers, got out their comets, and after shoving the car down to the nearest farm house, commenced to play "There is a better world they say."

In a few moments came the farmer, Mr. James Gormier, and invited the crowd into the house for a cup of tea.

In Wetaskiwin an open-air was held in the afternoon, another at night, and a musical programme given in the Hotel. This was presided over by Mr. Watson, a warm friend of the Army, who spoke of the way in which he had followed up the accounts of the Army's work for the troops during the war.

Immediately following the Musical Festival several cups commenced the journey home to the Citadel, arriving without further mishap at about 12.30 a.m. Tuesday morning; some of the Bandsmen returning in the morning by train and auto.

Praise God for Results

The Bandsmen wish to heartily endorse the remarks of the master, who the night before, to the Band, all who had in any way assisted to make the outing a success, whether in procuring cars, meals, billets, or in any other way, afterwards marching back to the Methodist Church for a red-hot Holiness meeting, led by Brigadier and Mrs. Hay.

In the afternoon the Band marched to the hospital, and played for some time to the inmates; afterwards being conveyed to the Danit Theatre for the Fringe service.

CHINA

BREAKING NEW GROUND—FIRST MEETINGS SEALED BY CONVERSIONS—POWER OF ARMY CHORUSES—HALL "FIXED UP" BY VILLAGERS—A DOCTOR AMONGST THE SEEKERS

Seven Surrender in Open-Air

The following extracts from a letter to the International Centre from Lieutenant-Colonel Browner, Chief Secretary for the China Territory, are of special interest in that they show the soul-saving character of the work in operation.

"The introduction of a newly-commissioned Chinese Lieutenant created a great stir at Pao Tsin Fu, a place which is considerably removed from Peking. Large crowds attended the week-end meetings, and two souls were won.

Loaned a Hall

"Our next stopping place was the small village of Chi Chuan Tzu. Here we held meetings in a Hall fixed up by a number of the villagers, which has been loaned free of cost until we can secure a suitable place. The people were very appreciative, and in the first meeting seven seekers came forward, a mother and her daughter being amongst the number."

As a result of the first meeting at a new opening in the North, five souls were won. Adjutant Pennek, writing of a visit to this place, says: "Arriving at the Hall we found the Officers busy teaching several lads Army choruses. We soon realized the wisdom of this move, for later they accompanied us to the open-air meeting, and sang and clapped most heartily. It is not possible to describe the power and fascination of our Army choruses. They 'catch on' every time and every where. Two hundred people assembled to listen to us, and the subsequent indoor meeting was crowded. Most of the folk stayed to the end, while three men and two youths came forward; one of the men being a scholar with the degree of 'Shin Tai'!"

Noise and Discussion

"At night they had an over-heating time, so much so that the offer of the police superintendent to assist in controlling the crowds was accepted. One man came forward in spite of the noise and discussion concerning the Great Message of Salvation."

"A special meeting for women was arranged, and there were five seekers, one of whom was a Chinese doctor, a Buddhist, who had never heard the Christian doctrine before."

"New ground has also been broken at Tinchow, a walled city."

"As ever, the work began in the open-air at this place. Immense interest was aroused, a huge crowd following to the Hall, which was too small to accommodate all who desired to get in. Writing of this opening, Captain Cunningham, who was in charge, says: 'Owing to the great heat, and the overwhelming crowd, it was impossible to 'carry on' in the Hall, so we came out into the courtyard. There were six hundred people present, and seven came forward; so that we won our first converts in the open-air.'

THE SALVATION ARMY IN BELGIUM

By COLONEL JAMES J. COOKE

A FEW weeks ago, near the end of four days meetings, which I held in Brussels, I received a letter from some one to encourage me in my work, and in my seeking for workers, and the writer added: "But for myself, I am not a worker. I am not converted. I was converted for twelve years, and now he is going to give himself to God." Like a child he came. Last Sunday his wife told us how he had said, "I don't know how it was, but I just found myself at the Penitent Form and I got converted."

The Second Session of Chinese Cadets Who Were Recently Commissioned Under the Army Flag

verted twenty years ago in the Salvation Army. I wore uniform, I sold the "War Cry," I testified, but after a year, something happened, and my faith failed me, and I resisted all efforts of my comrades, and even of the dear old General, who sought to bring me back to God when he visited Belgium many years ago. After that I was in despair, and felt I must go away where there were no Salvationists, so I went with my wife to the mines in Calais, and afterwards to Lille. I took strong drink, my wife had a wretched life with me. However, through the war I finally reached Brussels as a refugee, and I found out the dear Salvation Army again. What a comfort it has been to me! It has been such a joy to come to the meetings again. I have looked at my watch often ten times for fear I might be a moment late. Oh Colonel! pray for me."

After the first song I referred to this letter and said I did not know the writer, but I believed he was there. I invited him to come forward, then, for Salvation. Like a child he came, followed by his wife. Ever since they have been so happy.

Father Got Saved

In another Corps a young mother came to me saying, "I was converted during your first visit here, now I shall be so glad if you will deliver me this morning." The next morning, Sunday, the husband of a soldier, a soldier with whom I billeted during my first visit, told me how I pleaded with him nearly twelve years ago to come to God, and how that I had continued to pray for him ever since, and that there were very few letters. Two of the town counsels have given one hundred francs each. We were able to present to Brigadier Booth on the occasion of our great feast day, August 15th, the sum of four thousand and three hundred francs.

Our friends will be interested to know that one of my Belgian Officers suggested that we should ask for a Thank Offering from our people, and that we should be sent to England, not to help the English, but as a sign of gratitude for what England has done for Belgium. APPLIED RELIGION

Editorial From the Winnipeg "Telegram"—Splendid Tribute to Army

When transfusion of blood was said to be necessary to save the life of a patient in Queen's Military Hospital at Kingston, Ontario, yesterday, no one could be surprised to learn that it was a Salvation Army officer who offered himself that he might live. No higher tribute can be paid to the Salvation Army than to say that the action of Harry Parker, a native of Winnipeg, is proud to learn, is a gift of his blood to save another, is what one would expect from a member of that body whose religion is service.

Inspired Determination

The late General Booth once declared that it was the alighting look despair on the faces of the dwellers in the slums of London which made him determine to devote his life to the service of suffering mankind, and the Salvation Army is the fruit of that inspired determination. In following faithfully in the footsteps of General Booth the Salvation Army is following One greater than he, and the secret of its success is to be found in the fact that its idea of service is that it must be unselfish, all-inclusive and life-giving.

Many other religions bodies, well-meaning though they be, look upon service as something which is held in Sunday and in the middle of the week, although even the latter is hard to keep going, and the very word "service" has acquired the meaning of a gathering for ritual, prayer and preaching. To the Salvation Army service means what it meant to the Great Physician, who went about daily doing good, faithful even unto death.

Judges by Experience

It is customary nowadays to accord praise to the Salvationist for his "social" work, while regarding other highly that belief which sustains him, the belief in the presence in this earth of the Spirit of the Most High God. He might not be able to prove to the satisfaction of the follower of "science, falsely so-called," that the Spirit of God is with him every hour, but he judges by his own experience and it is hard to gainsay that.

Professor, Bolshevik, religious fanatic or Salvation Army Soldier, they all say "I shall know them," and judged by that standard the faithful Salvationist may hope to hear the words "well done, good and faithful servant."

WINNIPEG VIII.

Four Seek Salvation at Farewell Meetings of Cadets

Our week-end meetings at Winnipeg VIII, on August 30th, were of an interesting character. First of all we welcomed our Officers back again after their furlough. Then we said farewell to two Cadets at night. Both have done faithful service in the Corps. One was the Secretary and the other "War Cry" Sergeant.

We had the joy of seeing four kneeling at the Mercy Seat. On Wednesday, September 2, we held the final farewell to the Cadets, which took the form of a Social. Forty-four in all came to the meeting. Several of the comrades spoke and then Cadets Milburn and Aldridge soloed. The band and comrades marched them to the Training School. E. E. Graham, Sergeant.

COLONEL TURNER CONDUCTS MARRIAGE CEREMONY OF CAPTAINS ROY MCCAUGHEY AND IDA NANCARROW AT WINNIPEG

THE marriage of Captain Ida Nancarrow to Captain Roy McCaughey, was solemnized at the St. James Auditorium on Tuesday evening.

Brigadier Phillips, under whom both the Captain and his wife were trained, gave the young couple some spiritual advice, emphasizing the ing, September 2nd, the ceremony being conducted by Colonel Turner, the Chief Secretary, was tastefully decorated with palms and flowers. Brigadier Taylor, Divisional Commander for the Manitoba Division, opened the service with a real old Salvation Army song, which was sung with much fervor. Following this Mrs. Colonel Turner and Major Peacock prayed God's blessing on the union. Another congregational song was sung, after which Colonel Turner read the "Articles of Marriage," and the "I Vows" were given by both the bride and bridegroom in an unhesitating manner.

Appointed to Dauphin

Congratulatory telegrams from the bride's parents, and various friends, were read by Major Goodwin, who also, on behalf of the Chief Secretary, gave Captain and Mrs. McCaughey their appointment to take charge of Dauphin Corps in the Manitoba Division. Commandant Gosling, with whom Captain McCaughey has been working for the past few months, spoke in a few well chosen words of the Captain's faithfulness in the discharge of his duties. Brigadier Mrs. Potter spoke on behalf of Mrs. McCaughey, who has been engaged in the Women's Social work for the past two years, and Captain Fletcher, sister of the bride, also spoke as representing the absent members of the family.

The Army Float at Nanaimo Peace Celebration Which Won First Prize

ARMY FLOAT

Won First Prize in Peace Celebration Parade at Nanaimo—The Work of the Corps is Progressing

Since taking charge of Nanaimo Captain Sharrock and Lieutenant Cousins have not only found their way into the hearts of the Soldiers but through their efforts the people of the town are becoming more interested in the work of the Army, and many are becoming interested in their own welfare. Several good cases of conversion have taken place. These comrades are taking their stand and are hoping to be enrolled in the near future.

We had splendid time with the Juniors at Taylor Bay. Everybody enjoyed themselves.

On July 19th we were asked to take part in the Peace celebrations which consisted partly of a parade through the city. Willing volunteers got together and arranged a float representing a Salvation Army unit at the front during the war, and the work of the Army at home and abroad. Captain Sharrock, at a distance, showed exceptional ability in leading out doughnuts and coffee to the boys. The crowd showed their appreciation by cheering again and again.

We were not surprised when we heard that the Army had got First Prize.

Our sale of work on August 9th was a brilliant success. Thanks to the Captain and his staff of workers. We took nearly $175.

It is the intention of the Captain to form a Singing Brigade in the near future. We have some splendid talent.

We are praying for the Lieutenant who received word that her sister was very ill and to go home as soon as possible. R. C. S.

CHAPLAIN-CAPT. CARROLL

Leads Sunday Meetings at Calgary 2

On Sunday, September 14th, Commandant (Chaplain-Captain) William Carroll conducted the services. It is the intention of the Captain to form a Singing Brigade in the near future. We have some splendid talent.

The bride was supported by Lieutenant L. Merritt, and the bridegroom by Captain H. Greenaway, who spoke on behalf of the Captain. Major Holman and Adjutant Fagner of Ottawa, who were passing through the city, were present at the service, both of whom spoke of the personal religion they are enjoying.

Well Attended Reception

The service was brought to a close by a congregational song, after which a reception was held at the Sir Douglas Hotel, attended by about fifty guests.

May God's richest and choicest blessing rest upon the Captain and his wife in their new field of labour.

WINNIPEG III.

God is bestowing His blessings on us here at No. 111, and souls are seeking a deeper work of grace or getting saved. September 14th Visiting Roe and Lieutenant Joyce led us on.

The open-air are well attended. Adjutant Carter, Territorial Headquarters, and Oakes, our former Commanding Officer, were with us at night and two ladies sought Salvation, one headdress home to God, and one sought a deeper work of grace.

Many of our comrades are sick and need prayers.—T. O'Hara, Corps Correspondent.

TRAIL, B. C.

On Sunday, September 7th, we welcomed Lieutenant Reynolds to assist Ensign Florence Poulton. We have a splendid Junior worker.

Farewell to Saskatchewan

COMMISSIONER SOWTON Visits Yorkton, Saskatoon, and Regina—Big Rallies of Officers and Soldiers to Bid Departing Leader Goodspeed

ADDRESSES OFFICERS IN COUNCIL, AT MOOSE JAW

Words from Mrs. Sowton, went right to our hearts. The Commissioner spoke of the rest that is prepared for the children of God already in this life. He very clearly pointed out why so many in our days are in lack of this rest and put the search-light on the hindrances. One seeker came forward.

In the afternoon meeting Commandant Larson lined out the first song and Mrs. Adjutant Richardson prayed. The Divisional Commander called upon Ensign Stride to speak for the Field Officers; Ensign Patterson for the Social; Adjutant Richardson for the Corps; Mrs. Commandant Larson for the Young People; and Mrs. Brigadier Combs for the Division.

Ensign Stride said that at first, when the Commissioner came to her Corps, she had wondered what will he think of her, but his people in these circumstances, and after the first visit they were always glad to hear that he was coming their way. Mrs. Sowton's collection of farewell were feelingly received, especially when she mentioned that they were to leave behind two of their three children. The silver lining was that the children, of their own free will, were engaged in Salvation Army warfare.

Review of Four Years

The Commissioner, in his review of the past four years, spoke of many instances in which it was clearly to be seen that the hand of God has been with us. At night the Citadel was crowded, and a number of prominent Regina citizens were attendants. The Commissioner's Salvation address was enlightening and the truths were delivered very forcefully. One old gentleman told me that the text quoted by the Commissioner had not been very clear to him, but now

Visit to Stony Mountain

Colonel Turner, Assisted by Mrs. Commissioner Sowton, a Number of Officers, and the Winnipeg I Band, Conducts Meetings at Penitentiary, School House, and Church

The Band excelled itself both in singing and playing, and the earnest testimonies of the Officers and Handmen were of that character which made every man to feel that there was something in the service of God to be enjoyed and when the invitation was given fully two thirds of the men raised their hands asking to be prayed for.

Warm Hospitality

We were taken to our billets for dinner. Many of us have been going to billets for years, but we all agree that we have never met with more whole-hearted welcomes or hospitality.

Rev. Mr. Anderson (Presbyterian), arranged for us to take us to Rockwood School House, where a real happy meeting was held in the open-air. A good crowd gathered for the meeting. The Hand when asked to give account of the evening and helping of the men.

after hearing the Commissioner's explanation, he saw it in a new light.

Mrs. Sowton's last message was a heart-to-heart talk, and in the prayers or meeting, three sorrowful and heavy-laden sinners found their way to the Mercy Seat. As a witness Brigadier Combs called upon all the Officers to surround Commissioner and Mrs. Sowton on the platform. The Soldiers and friends were close by and we sang—"God be with you till we meet again." The Brigadier then committed us all to God's care.

Accompanied to Station

When Commissioner and Mrs. Sowton left for Winnipeg on the eleven p. m. train the full Band and a crowd of comrades and friends were at the station to bid a last good bye.

Five open-air meetings were held during the day. The Commissioner taking part in several of them. The marches through the streets were grand. The Band in full was in harness from early morning to late at night and did good service both in the open-air as well as in the inside meetings.

The Songsters took part in the afternoon meeting and again at night, and Mrs. Larson soloed. On Thursday, September 11th, Brigadier Combs called together the Officers from Estevan, Weyburn, Assiniboia, Maple Creek, Swift Current and Lethbridge, and held a Jubilee Demonstration in Moose Jaw. Knowing that the Commissioner was passing through on his way to Vancouver, and seeing that his train stopped for half an hour, the Brigadier arranged to meet the Commissioner at the train and bring him in an auto to the Citadel where the Officers were gathered. This was very much appreciated by the Officers and the words from our Leader will long be remembered. This enabled the Commissioner to meet the Officers from every Corps in the Division but two.

Helped and Refreshed

The arrangements made by Adjutant and Mrs. Heatie for the demonstration were first class. The Officers' meetings, conducted by Brigadier and Mrs. Combs, were times when the old-time spirit took hold of us and we went to our appointments refreshed, and more determined than ever to work for God. —J. L. Larson, Commandant.

spoke earnestly about giving the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard, illustrating his remarks by incidents happening in his work.

Major Peacock conducted the prayer meeting. Bandman Walter Taylor sang very sweetly. On how sweet the Name. The Band stirred the hearts of all present by their singing and playing which was interspersed with several Bandmen's testimonies.

Cheer and Blessing

Immediately after the service we left for home, thankful for the opportunity we had of service to the people of Stony Mountain and discharging justly by so many hearty invitations to "come back again, soon," we all felt that we had been of some cheer and blessing.

We wish, through the "War Cry," to express our deep appreciation to Warden and Mrs. Graham, Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, and the able-bodied men, for the great kindness and hospitality which will always be remembered by the Winnipeg Band and Officers who were privileged to take part in this campaign. —J. L. Larson, Commandant.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The Coming Campaign

THIS month witnesses the launching of the great "drive" in the Canada East Territory by the Salvation Army in the "Out of the Ruts" Campaign. It will commence with a Rally Day for the Young People on Sunday, October 2 and continue throughout the Fall and Winter.

A reference to our front page illustration will convey the main idea of the plan of campaign. As the "Out of the Ruts" Campaign, it will commence with a Rally Day for the Young People on Sunday, October 2 and continue throughout the Fall and Winter.

The call goes forth, therefore, for more strenuous efforts to be made to awaken and save the people who are asleep in sin. Novel and startling methods should be the order of the day, and before the Campaign closes we expect to hear of many new things being done by daring Soldiers of God and the Army.

We would urge, however, that the guidance of God should first be sought before any action is taken. He must direct and lead or all our plans will come to naught. Let earnest prayer be made therefore. God knows best what action will be most likely to arouse sinners, and He will inspire this praying soldiers with the right ideas and give them grace and strength to carry them out. Spiritual vision is what is more needed.

"Where there is no vision the people perish," said Solomon. God will give visions to His people, if they earnestly seek, which will stir them with compassion for a lost world, and impel them to be willing to do anything if they can only save some.

Forward then for a campaign to drive back the forces of evil, to get God's people sanctified and filled with the Holy Ghost and to snatch sinners from the fire.

Spiritual Need Deeper

In these days of almost universal unrest and perplexity many voices are lifted in warning and in exhortation, urging mankind to seek for rest and satisfaction at the only true source—God.

Mr. Lloyd George, the British Premier, recently uttered the following words: "I speak as one standing on the water tower, and know that the world of the future is not material. It is spiritual. Get the spiritual, and the material will follow. The wounds of the world are bleeding, and material things won't heal it. That is why I hail any movement which brings the great spirit of brotherhood. The one need of England and France today is to heal and brotherhood of the Cross."

Mr. Hoover, the well-known American, recently declared that our supreme need is what he would call a "spiritual revival." And from Mr. Poincaré, an English Member of Parliament comes the following warning: "Unless we face the danger that we are running, and fully realize the deterioration which, psychologically more than materially, is taking place in the national character here and elsewhere, we shall have to pass through a period of serious moral decline, out of which it will require a profound spiritual revival to lift us."

On all sides men of vision are saying practically the same thing. The great need of the world-to-day is a spiritual need. Now that the armies are being demobilized do not let the praying hands be demobilized. Rather let us more earnestly unite to petition the Throne of Grace that the peoples of the world may find Salvation, peace and rest and a healing of all wars in Jesus Christ, the only Saviour of mankind.

Happiness and Usefulness

THE world is learning wisdom—slowly but surely—and will be once accounted happiness is now known to be misery—crowned with roses, drunk with wine, or attired in gold and purple, but still, misery.

In the ages of long ago the multitude ranked happiness no higher than the possession of wealth, and never to rule over trembling millions. Kingdom after kingdom came crumbling into the dust, nations were said into decay, kings perished by their own hands or those of assassins before mankind learnt that happiness does not necessarily dwell in treasure chambers or royal palaces.

At the time the Saviour was born, the world was sick of itself. Born in the midst of the great city of Nazareth, the mad breaks of the world, the greed for gold and the poor, the wading to treasures through seas of blood, had left the world shuddering under a hope beyond the tomb.

But the light which shone from Calvary, the new message of peace and hope for this world and the new life of resurrection of Christ, which gave a new meaning to life and death, saved the world from the world of weariness, hate, and disappointment at long-covered pictures which turned to ashes at the touch.

Have Found the Secret

THE trumpet-call to self-sacrifice and a life of faith roused many a man and woman to higher conceptions of happiness than the heart could ever dream of, and in "losing their lives" they "found them"—found a joy in work for others which set the old world stirring in new life. In the fires of jealous persecution.

In the last century the Salvation Army was raised up to proclaim the blessings of Salvation in all the primitive simplicity of the early Christians, and very soon worldlings were saying, "How happy these people are! They have found the secret of a joyous life amid poor surroundings." In the ranks of the Army are some of the happiest men and women living, and amongst its Officers are people of every grade of life, blessing God every day that He has given them this wonderful opportunity of using "every hour and every power" for righteousness, peace, and joy in believing, working, toiling, hoping, praying for others in and out of the Kingdom.

No better use could be made of high abilities, keen intellect, manly resolve, womanly tact and sympathy, than to lay them on the altar of sacrifice, and to find them used in the Salvation Army for the blessing of others and the reaping here and in eternity of sheaves of happiness.

Relief Expedition for Serbia

FOUR HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS' WORTH OF GOODS TO BE PLACED AT THE DISPOSAL OF WAR-STRICKEN PEOPLE

How Failure Overtook the Army's First Endeavour to Supply Needs—Clothes at Prohibitive Prices—An Ambition Plan Maturing—Experienced Officers Proceeding to Salonica and Belgrade

JUST prior to his departure for Serbia a representative of the British "War Cry" interviewed Colonel Govaars.

"This is my third visit to that country," said the Colonel. "In 1915, as some 'War Cry' readers will remember, the General sent me to assist, as far as possible, in those districts which had suffered most from Austrian attack. The people, though living in one of the richest agricultural districts in Europe, were literally starving. We soon got arrangements in hand for the supply of food; in fact I was actually in Salonica superintending the dispatch of seven trucks loaded with stuff, when Serbia was again over-run, and 'this' was written to immediate relief.

Helping the Refugees

"Immediately afterwards I proceeded to take in command with me a detachment of the Army's work amongst the hundreds of refugees who, as a consequence of the terrible winter retreat, had sought safety there. A Home Office Officer, pending their being sent by their own Government to more permanent shelter.

"Although the work, both in Serbia and in Italy, was what people generally call Social work, yet the spiritual influence of the same was of such a nature that repeatedly since that time some of the highest representatives of the Serbian Government have expressed their longing for the Salvation Army to commence its regular operations in their country.

"Last November the General again sent me to Serbia to see how the Army could be most useful in the then existing circumstances. The invader had been driven back, but the conditions were appalling. Food was not then scarce, nor is it so now, but clothing of every kind was practically non-existent. This is not to be wondered at, seeing that all imports of clothing, hosiery, and materials for the manufacture of such articles, had been stopped for practically five years. Moreover, the occupying armies had pillaged and robbed the inhabitants of all they possessed, even taking the mattresses from the beds.

"The small consignments that dribbled into the country, via various channels, were absolutely insufficient, and, naturally, prices rose to extraordinary heights. These conditions caused me to confer with the Serbian authorities and with the British Representatives for supplying relief. (Including Brigadier-General Fortescue and Admiral Trollope, who was in charge of the Allied Naval Forces on the Danube front) with the result that a plan was laid before the Serbian Government to tackle the problem. Amid scenes of great enthusiasm, over four hundred guests were recently entertained at the Clifton Congress Hall, London, England—Commissaire. Whomsoever such a host of young men and women forsaking worldly callings—particularly in these abnormal times—for the purpose of devoting themselves to the maintenance and extension of the Army's work of saving souls in this and other lands, said the Commissaire, spoke volumes as to the spirit which actuates among Salvationists, and forthwith much blessing from Him for whose sake it was all done.

Commissaire Booth-Tucker was one of the speakers. His message was no less clear than in former years, and his devotion to India, his conviction that the Army is faced with splendid opportunities, and his strong faith in God, were admirably expressed in surprisingly few words.

A stirring message from the General was received with loud acclamation. It was as follows: "You are going to have a stiff fight! The devil has made full arrangements to shake and shake you, and God has made full arrangements to save you. You are going to win through."

Brigadier Chandler led inspiring prayers at the Clifton Congress Hall and at the Clifton Congress Hall and at the Clifton Congress Hall.

And the greatest interest and enthusiasm on the part of all, the Brigadier was asked to receive and take to the country to the aid of the Belgian people, offering from suffering Belgium to be used for suffering Belgian mothers. In the morning meeting, Mrs. Colonel Govaars was in charge of the Clifton Congress Hall and at the Clifton Congress Hall.

NEWS FROM ACROSS THE BORDER—LINE

Salvation Army Takes Prominent Part in Welcome to General Pershing—Commissioner Estill Conducts Campaign in Chicago—Annual Prison Congress

The Salvation Army took quite a prominent position upon the pier, by invitation of the War Department, at the home-coming of General John J. Pershing. While the river was alive with craft and the hum of the air-linings was incessant, the dock was filled with a great crowd of people all eager to pay the honour that was due the great leader of the American Expeditionary Forces. Forty Salvationists were lined up as part of the guard of honour, and the General very graciously turned and saluted when he observed the Salvation Army uniform.

The opening of a new English-speaking Corps in San Francisco was highly successful, a big crowd attending meetings in open-air and hall. A Japanese Corps has also been opened in Los Angeles.

The Salvation Army Naval Club in San Francisco provided 10,000 sailors with meals and entertainment during the visit of the Grand Pacific fleet. Secretary of the Navy, Daniels and wife inspected the club, thanked the doughnuts, and pronounced them good. He paid a glowing tribute to Salvationists.

Commissioner Estill's special campaign on Labour Day with the Scandinavian comrades in Chicago was a great success. The crowds were unable to get into the hall, necessitating an overflow meeting in the open air, which was attended by large numbers.

A pleasing function in connection with the day was the presenting of ten new flags to the ten Scandinavian Corps in the city.

Mrs. Commissioner Estill is visiting St. Paul Rescue Home in connection with the graduating of the nursing class of that institution. The meeting will be a public one, and will be conducted in the Minneapolis Hall.

Commandant Sabine and Adjutant Payne, of the Honolulu Girls' Home are to be congratulated in connection with their having received first and third prizes from the Hawaiian Territorial Fair for work done by girls of the Home.

The Annual Prison Congress will be held in New York on October 20th to 24th, and bids for to be more important than ever. A strong Salvation Army representation will be present. Usually under the patronage of the Governor, the State from which our Officers come is represented by them in an official capacity, and this gives additional prestige.

A fine location and a building finely adapted to our needs is being secured for the Bowery Corps in New York.

The co-operation of the Salvation Army is sought by the Government in connection with the work of the War Risk Insurance Bureau. Colonel Parker has, during the past week, been in conference with the authorities, and the responsibilities accepted will involve much hard work.

PROMOTED TO GLORY

Sister Mrs. White, Parliament Street (Toronto)

On August 14th death visited our Corps and removed from our midst Sister Mrs. White, a very loyal, devoted, and faithful Salvationist, one who was always ready for any duty, and who laboured for the Lord with a glad, willing spirit.

During the past six months she was employed as a Military District Visitor, and while in this position proved a great help and blessing to God and the Army.

She will be remembered in many homes in the city because of her ardent labour of love and prayers, as she seldom left a home without praying. Every case that was placed within her care was handled with wisdom and discretion. Time was nothing to her, she was at it early and late and has been known after arriving home at 10 p.m., tired and sick, and remembering a woman in trouble, to go out and visit the home. She did a great deal of good through this work.

She loved her work, and was glad of the privilege to do something for God and the Army in this way. As a Soldier she did her work well, and was always ready to do what she could.

She was a member of the Home League and held the commission of Cradle Roll Sergeant.

WAITING TO WELCOME ME

In the prayer meeting at a young woman to whom I felt specially called to speak. The Devil, however, suggested that there were plenty of other people in the Hall who could talk to her; I need not trouble. Besides, I was only there for the Sunday. I followed the light, however, and was able to point her to the Saviour.

The Nanaimo Citadel Which Has Recently Undergone Extensive Renovations and Alterations

The funeral service was conducted by Captain Ellery.

The memorial service on Sunday night was well attended, and several comrades testified to the godly life of our departed comrade. At the close of the service several knelt at the Mercy Seat for consecration and Salvation.

Our prayers and sympathy are for the bereaved.

Sister Mrs. Hayward, New Liskeard

On Wednesday, September 10th, Sister Mrs. Hayward, of New Liskeard, passed away. Sister Hayward was a faithful Soldier of this Corps, and one who will be greatly missed. About three years ago she met with an accident which prevented her taking any active part in the Salvation war, but her deep interest and desire to be at the battle's front were always maintained. She was confined to her bed for some little time before passing away, but always had a perfectly submissive spirit to the will of God. Continually during her last days did she repeat "The Lord's Will be done."

Just prior to taking to her bed she visited and dealt and prayed with a neighbour who was dying, and won her last soul for God. The neighbour died just nine days before Mrs. Hayward.

Sister Mrs. Hayward was converted in Bristol, England, 36 years ago, and has been connected with the Army ever since. She has been a Soldier of New Liskeard Corps for the past ten years.

The funeral service was conducted at the home and grave on Sunday, September 14th, by Ensign Moffatt, of Cabot.

On Sunday, September 21st, a memorial service was held which, in spite of the rain, was fairly well attended.

She has heard the Lord's "Well done," for she faithfully bore her cross till death and fought a good fight.—N. Stevenson, Lieutenant.

THE PRAYING LEADER

By MRS. BLANCHE R. JOHNSON

"Christ Died for Us" (Romans 5:8)—This statement is a revelation of God's Love. We know much about the love of Jesus. The marvelous quality of His great love is always being emphasized by preachers and teachers. As He took upon Himself the human form and the nature of man we can to some extent understand His love and grasp a little of the significance of His enormous sacrifice. We know a little of what physical pain and anguish and tears mean. Reverently we write it.

We cannot, of course, presume to imagine it is in our human capacity to measure the depth of His mental agony upon the Cross.

But the fact that at least a part of His suffering was endured in order to enter slightly into His misery to the lost world.

But it is a different problem when we are an apostle like Paul makes here, "God commendeth His love towards us, in that, while we were yet sinners Christ died for the ungodly."

"God so loved the world that He gave." That is the essence of the Gospel! "God gave."

The old story of an angry God demanding a sacrifice to appease His wrath has passed into the records of history. We do not now so think of Him. The Fatherhood of God is the idea we should emphasize and remember. He loved—so He gave.

He wanted to show a blind world the meaning of love. Only through a human manifestation could that sublime affection for a fallen world be understood. "He took upon Himself the form of man."

But it was to show the Father's love. Because the Father is invisible, omnipotent, the "I am," we cannot so easily grasp the meaning of His spirit. "For God is love. We say He is loving. We should rather think He is love! and human language is, of course, inadequate. We cannot measure infinity. He is beyond our human comprehension and only through condescension can we come into touch with Him through the other Holy One in the glorious Trinity—the Holy Spirit—He will take the things of God and reveal them unto us.

LAST OPPORTUNITY

"I will, but not to-night!" I had heard the same words from Jack each Sunday evening for six or eight weeks, but this time they seemed to be something unusual about the way they were spoken which chilled the blood in my veins. "Jack," I said, "I am sure you are not in your last opportunity." And then I told him how his words had struck me, and that I felt God especially wanted me to meet him in a decision.

With a curl of the lips, he answered, "Nonsense! I'll be all right. I'll consider it next Sunday," and he walked out of the Hall.

A few mornings later a fellow Soldier knocked at my door.

"Have you heard the news?" he asked.

"What news?"

"That Jack was killed at his post this morning. They've just taken his body home."

I listened immediately to the little cottage nestled on the hillside where he had lived, and where, in the morning, was Jack's coffin. "I'm—W. G."

Human sympathy has often encouraged doubtful souls to bravely face the very thing they had solved to leave undone.

AERIAL STAMPS

SPECIAL stamps for use in the trans-Atlantic air post have been prepared by the Newfoundland post office in two separate types. That for the Handley Page service consists of the 15-cent (Cahot series) surcharged Trans-Atlantic Air Post, 1919-21, while the Sopwith Martinair stamp is the current 3-cent (airline head), the same that was used to frank the letter carried by Hawker and Griever in their flight.

The historic stamp bearing the imprint, "First trans-Atlantic Air Post, May, 1919," will be eagerly sought after by stamp collectors, as only 200 specimens exist. The original printing had the date "April" instead of May.

NOTED BELGIAN PRELATE

CARDINAL MERCIER, the Belgian cleric who has figured so largely during the war, is now on a visit to the United States. He was warmly welcomed on his arrival at New York, a band on the dock striking up "La Brabançonne," the magnificent National Anthem of Belgium, and large crowds cheering him.

According to newspaper reports the venerable prelate is to pay a visit to Canada and civic receptions are being arranged in his honour.

BACK TO NORMAL

IT is probable that normal traffic on the Atlantic will be resumed by the end of October. Indications point to an early ending of the restriction of passenger space for Government requirements on both the Canadian and American routes, and from British ports. Shipping men predict that plenty of space on all lines will soon be available for civilian travel, on both the New York and Canadian lines to British ports.

NEW COINS NEEDED

"PRESENT prices," writes Ezra C. Williams, to the New York Times, "have lessened the value of the 5-cent piece. It no longer purchases many things. Arolley ride, a cup of coffee is not always to be had for it. The advance from 5 cents to a dime is too much. A coin between them might fill the need. A 2 1/2-cent coin seems to be the right one. Perhaps a 2 1/2-cent coin would be preferable."

The old half-cent, the 2-cent, the 3-cent, the silver 5-cent and 6-cent coins had their failings and were required. Now a 2 1/2-cent or a 2 1/2-cent coin seems to be desirable. Any price could be met with either piece and either coin."

American, and we would advise our readers to become familiar with them in order to be ready to render first aid treatment in cases of necessity.

An accidental electrical shock usually does not kill at once, but may only stun the victim and for a while stop the breathing. The following instructions should be followed in any case, even if the victim appears to be dead.

I.—Free the Victim from the Circuit

Immediately release the victim from the current, being very careful to avoid receiving a shock. Use any dry non-conductor (rubber gloves, clothing, wood, rope, etc.), to move either the victim or the conductor.

II.—Attend Instantly to Victim's Breathing

(1) As soon as the victim is clear dry, may be used to pull him away; do not touch the soles or heels of his shoes while he remains in contact—the nails are dangerous. If this is impossible, use rubber gloves, a dry coat, a dry rope, a dry stick or board, or any other dry non-conductor, so as to break the electrical contact.

(b) If the bare skin of the victim must be touched by your hands, be sure to cover them with rubber gloves, knuckledoek, rubber sheeting or dry cloth; or stand on a dry board or on some other dry insulating surface. If possible, use only one hand.

III.—Attend Instantly to Victim's Breathing

Beware of using metal or any moist material. If both of the victim's hands are grasping live conductors endeavour to free them one at a time. If necessary, shut off current. of the live conductor, quickly feel with your finger in his mouth and throat and remove any foreign body (tongue, false teeth, etc.). If the mouth is tight shut, pay no attention to the above-mentioned instructions until later, but immediately begin resuscitation. The patient will breathe through his nose and after resuscitation has been carried on a the best of their distressing situation. The day wore on and the storm began to abate and the river to recede. By this time the children were complaining that they were hungry.

The circumstances of one of the occasions referred to were of a particularly thrilling character. After a hard day's work clearing a portion of his land, Mr. McArtley retired earlier than usual. It was early in the spring and there had been a season of heavy rains, and the river had risen considerably, but he did not think there was any immediate danger.

OLD SONG EXCHANGE

Sergeant-Major Gordimer (East Toronto) would like to obtain words of the last song that was sung by the late Const. Booth-Tucker, just previous to his Promissio in Glory. One verse is as follows:—

"Bony fingers and pale faces,
You can't escape, God knows your name;
If you miss this great Salvation
You will be in blame."
The tune is: "You never can tell when the death bell's tolling."

LODGED A PROTEST

Against Name of Jesus Being Omitted From Peace Celebration Programme

At a Welsh town where the Salvation Army recently "opened fire," the young woman-Captain, with other ministers of the town, was appointed a member of the committee formed in connection with the Peace celebrations. The chairman at one of the sittings reported that in selecting the hymns of thanks giving they had, out of deference to the feelings of the Jewish members of the population, and of the Rabbi—himself a member of the committee—decided to omit hymns

A GREAT CAVE

Near San Louis Potosi in Mexico a great cave has been discovered. It is said to be one of the largest in the republic. It was found by mine workers and is more than three hundred feet below the level of the mine, and fifteen feet in width. One of its most fantastic adornments is a sulphurous fountain which pours out continuously a stream of blue water.
